Fifth Army Rolls Toward The Towers of Smoke and Flame That Marked Great Port City

Gen. Eisenhower's Communique Announces Capture of Both Pompei and Mercato With Reign of Terror Raging Among Residents

BERLIN CITES DESTRUCTION OF INSTALLATIONS

BULLETIN

Stockholm, Sept. 30.—(P)—The Germans have evacuated Naples after destroying harbor installations, a Berlin dispatch to the newspaper Aftonbladet said today. "Communist revolt" and sabotage on a large scale were partly forcing the evacuation, the Germans said.

By WES GALLAGHER

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, Sept. 30.—(P)—The American Fifth Army rolled across the coastal plain at the foot of Vesuvius today toward the towers of smoke and flame that marked the city of Naples, Italy's second greatest port.

Overrunning Pompei, the modern town of 4,000 people built on the ashes of its ancient namesake that was destroyed in 79 A. D., troops of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark drove to the southern slopes of 3,900-foot Vesuvius and began the last stages of their approach around the base of the volcano.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's communique announced the capture of Pompei, 10 miles along the coast from Naples, and Mercato San Severino, 22 miles southeast of the coast. The city of Naples, the big port which has been shaken and swept for a week by the explosions and fires set by German demolition crews, and ridden by vengeful machine-gun squads reported to have executed a reign of terror among the people.

But it was probable that the troops were much closer than disclosed by the communique which usually contains no information of operations later than 6 p. m. of the preceding day.

(The Cairo radio said the Fifth Army was rapidly investing the city from the south and south-east.)

(The German communique, broadcast from Berlin, said that harbor installations had been destroyed in an effort to prevent Allied landings, and that "very severe measures were taken against Communist riots flaring up.")

While Clark's army continued its unbroken advance, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's Eighth Army along the Adriatic continued to consolidate the newly won air bases at Foggia, only 160 miles from Rome, and branched out to reach Manfredonia on the coast in a 20-mile advance from Zappone.

The weather turned from rain and wind to warm as General Sherman tanks and other tanks of the Fifth Army rumbled past Pompei to the outskirts of Torre Annunziata, beating down rear-guard opposition and pressing on despite extensive minefields and demolitions which had ruined roads and bridges.

The bulk of the German defenders apparently had fled into Naples and then on to the north, according to an air force announcement which told of bombing Nazi truck columns to the northeast of the city.

The fierce rush of Gen. Clark's troops through the mountain ring had cost dearly, however. A military spokesman announced that British divisions of the Fifth Army suffered 5,211 casualties from Sept. 9, the beginning of the battle of Salerno, to Sept. 30. This was a high proportion of casualties considering the number of troops involved.

(The War Department announced last Saturday that American casualties at Salerno, up to Sept. 15, totaled 3,497.)

Even if the Germans planned a temporary stand on the western slope of Vesuvius, it was probable that the entry into Naples would be within a day or two.

Meanwhile, the slow pressure against the Germans promised to gain to the Allies soon the substantial island base of Corsica. (Turn to Page Six.)

NAZIS FORCED TO RETREAT BY GUERRILLAS

Fighting In Progress Along 125-Mile Front Between Venice and Trieste To Northeast

AREA CALLED "UNSAFE"

London, Sept. 30.—(P)—A patriot communique broadcast today from somewhere in Yugoslavia said that guerrilla forces had forced German troops to retreat "at many places" near the northeastern Italian city of Fiume and at Ljubljana, in Yugoslavia.

The war bulletin, recorded here by Reuters, made no mention of how far the irregulars had swept past Gorizia, 25 miles west of the Yugoslav border and 30 miles northeast of Trieste, but the London Daily Mail, quoting German radio accounts, said the guerrillas had penetrated 100 miles into northern Italy to the Venice area.

This account declared that fighting was in progress along a 125-mile front between Venice and Trieste to the northeast and northward toward the Austrian border in the Dolomite foothills.

The newspaper quoted a Berlin radio spokesman as saying that the entire area was "unsafe" and that German troop movements were possible only in convoys. Roads, bridges and railways were said to have been blasted.

South along the eastern shore of the Adriatic, the Germans were said to be rushing additional forces to the Dalmatian coastal sector to strengthen the battered troops which recaptured the port of Split after 15 days of fighting.

In the Port of Susak, adjoining the Italian city of Fiume, all positions were said to be firmly held with heavy losses having been inflicted upon the enemy.

Meanwhile, the arrival in Cairo of Young King Peter of Yugoslavia was viewed in London as the likely forerunner of an Allied move to bring about a unification of the two Yugoslav guerrilla armies which together are estimated to total around 300,000 men.

MILLIONS OF JEWS OBSERVE NEW YEAR

New York, Sept. 30.—(P)—Millions of Jews throughout the world today solemnly celebrated Rosh Hashanah, the new year of 5704.

The 10-day period of penitence began at sundown last night and will be concluded on Oct. 9 with Yom Kippur, the fast day of atonement.

Observance of the incoming year by orthodox Jews will continue until sundown tomorrow while reform congregations will end services at sundown tonight.

BETTER POLICING OF SCHOOL ZONES URGED

Philadelphia, Sept. 30.—(P)—A seventh child's death since school opened brought a demand from Deputy Coroner Matthew A. Roth today for better policing of school zones.

The latest victim, Paul H. Rheinwald, Jr., 10, was struck by a truck yesterday near a parochial school and his body lay in the morgue for several hours before his parents identified it.

Coal Rationing Is Being Considered

Philadelphia, Sept. 30.—(P)—Retail coal dealers were on notice today that the Office of Price Administration will institute coupon rationing of coal "within 24 hours" if they fail to cooperate or if present restrictions prove inadequate to prevent suffering.

"If we need enforcement, we will go all the way with it," Robert L. Hosmer, OPA administrative and liaison officer, told a gathering of 500 retailers here yesterday.

Hosmer said his personal opinion is that conditions will improve considerably after October 15, but he made no promises. His information, he added, was based on official reports of anthracite stocks. For the present, he warned, dealers must continue on a shortage basis.

Drought In the State Nearing Danger Stage

By MARTIN H. BRACKBILL

Harrisburg, Sept. 30.—(P)—Dwindling water supplies were reported in many Pennsylvania communities today as Dr. A. H. Stewart, state secretary of health, called on Pennsylvanians to conserve water because "present conditions indicate danger of drought."

H. E. Moses, the health department's chief sanitary engineer, said in an interview, "unless we get rain soon, we're heading into real trouble."

Moses reported towns in southern Pennsylvania from Waynesboro to Somerset county face the worst situation so far, but communities in other sections also have asked permission to tap auxiliary supplies and still more "are on the edge."

Dr. Stewart urged consumers to restrict use of water "to necessary services in order to maintain an uninterrupted water supply for the operation of war industries, and the maintenance of essential domestic sanitary and fire fighting services in your community."

The department added that lack of rain is still delaying fall plowing for winter grain seeding and has cut the yields of potatoes in some sections so that it does not pay to dig them.

Former Russian Wills Bonds To Uncle Sam

Pittsburgh, Sept. 30.—(P)—Wasy Werteko, 61, employee of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Co., said today he has willed his $2,000 worth of war bonds to the United States government.

Born in Russia and a U. S. citizen since 1925, Werteko believes he is now alone in the world. His only relative, a son, Constantine, captured while serving with the Polish army, was in a German prison camp when Werteko received his last word from him two years ago.

Critical Report on British Commercial and Diplomatic Activities Believed Coming

END 40,000 - MILE TRIP

By JACK BELL

Washington, Sept. 30.—(P)—A critical report on British commercial and diplomatic activities may be laid before the senate in executive session by members of a five-man inspection committee which just returned from a 40,000-mile trip to the world's battlefronts.

While committee members declined to discuss publicly this phase of their extensive inquiries in the war zones, there were indications they feel that American diplomacy and economic activity are falling far behind the British.

The gist of their complaint, it was said authoritatively, is that British postwar policies already are functioning in a practical way while American representatives are at a loss to know what this nation's attitude will be on many important world questions when the fighting is over.

As a result, the committee members were said to have found that the British stand to reap postwar benefits from many American lend-lease contributions to other countries.

Some indication of this representation at British activities was given by Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) when he told a press conference yesterday that news of American military activities was being played down by British news services and the British radio.

From accounts they read in Egypt, Russell said it appeared that United States troops were not doing any of the fighting in Sicily. He told reporters later he had made a study of English news and radio broadcasts and found that when the Royal Air Force made a sortie, it always was mentioned by name, but when American bombers went into action the results were always attributed to "Allied air forces."

Similarly, Senator Brewster (R-Me.) said he thought the time had come to obtain more oil from the British holdings in the Persian Gulf area instead of continuing the heavy drain on American supplies.

V. F. W. Sidetracks Issue Over Women

New York, Sept. 30.—(P)—The Veterans of Foreign Wars fought a spirited battle of the sexes at their convention yesterday, then voted a year's armistice on a proposal to admit to membership women with overseas service in the armed forces.

Said Otto A. Silvers, a national council member from Detroit, before the measure was tabled: "If we get enough women in, we'll have to organize an auxiliary for their husbands who never served in any war."

Chris L. Edell of Paterson, N. J., however, added: "Women fight side by side with our men—how can we face the ladies in this war today without welcoming them?"

MAJORITY OF STATES WILL DRAFT DADS

Induction of Family Heads Will Start Immediately in Order To Meet Necessary Quotas

MANY ARE ALREADY IN

Harrisburg, Sept. 30.—(P)—Pennsylvania Selective Service headquarters today authorized the commonwealth's 422 local boards to call "specific number" of pre- Pearl Harbor fathers in filling their October induction quotas.

The total number of fathers to be called in the state and by individual local boards was withheld as restricted information.

By the Associated Press
Washington, Sept. 30.—With congress still debating the wisdom of it, the draft of fathers for military service starts tomorrow and an Associated Press survey indicates an overwhelming majority of states will start inducting family heads immediately in order to meet their quotas.

Local boards have been under orders to avoid, insofar as possible, induction of pre-war fathers until October 1. Selective service authorities contend that 446,000 fathers must go into uniform between now and the first of the year to meet the demands of the armed forces.

Draft officials of 24 states, including most of the south, said they definitely expect to call pre- Pearl Harbor fathers in October. Only ten states reported that they could postpone it until after November 1.

Actually many fathers already are in uniform.

Now, dependency of itself ceases. (Turn to Page Six.)

Three British Writers Killed In South Italy

London, Sept. 30.—(P)—Three British war correspondents with the American Fifth Army have been killed near Naples, it was announced today. They were listed as A. B. Austin of the London Daily Herald, Stewart G. Sale of Reuters news service and William J. Minday of the Sydney Morning Herald and the London News Chronicle.

The British news men were with the leading units of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's armor advancing upon Nocera, and it was after they had seen enemy opposition wiped out on the outskirts of the town that they were killed.

Ironically, the news the correspondents had been killed reached London only a few hours after a prophetic story by Austin had appeared in today's Daily Herald under the heading "On the Road to Death."

In New York the Magazine Editor and Publisher said the deaths announced today raised total British war correspondents' deaths to ten since the war began.

Thirteen American war correspondents have been killed on the far-flung fronts, three are missing and presumed to be dead, and 67 have been wounded, the Editor and Publisher compilation showed.

Buying Wave of Little and Big Bonds Puts County Over

Evansville, Ind., Sept. 30.—(P)—Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau announced here today the nation's Third War Loan drive goal of $15,000,000,000 had been met.

Loosing a quota-shattering barrage of bonds, Warren county yesterday laid low its objective in the Third War Loan drive. Before a buying wave of big and little bonds, the remaining $300,000 to be attained by Saturday was safely in the bag as of Wednesday.

The total reported by War Finance Headquarters was $3,581,342.00, which is 111% of Warren county's $3,222,100 quota.

Warren county, however, is still short some 2,289 subscribers; the subscriber quota in the Third War Loan being $250. It is hoped that by the time the drive officially ends this Saturday, Warren county will have reached the goal in subscribers.

Absenteeism Blamed On "Elbow Bending"

Pittsburgh, Sept. 30.—(P)—"Elbow-bending," not sickness, is responsible for most absenteeism among railroad men, declared Harry Reese, superintendent of motive power for the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, addressing a War Bond rally yesterday.

"We're running 8 per cent absent every day," he said. "You are all making good money and it is the pay-day boy who lays off because he went elbow-bending. If you quit bending the elbow and put that money in war bonds, you will be in shape to come to work next day."

Eastern Area Has Surprise Yellow Alert

Flight of Unidentified Planes Later Determined Friendly Cause of Alarm

CALLED SATISFACTORY

Harrisburg, Sept. 30.—(P)—A surprise yellow alert routed civilian defense staffs from their beds throughout eastern Pennsylvania in the early morning hours today and State Defense Council headquarters said officials "were well satisfied with the prompt and efficient response."

The yellow alert, which is a confidential preliminary warning to civilian defense leaders and does not involve any audible signals, was issued by the First Fighter Command in New York.

The announcement said the alert was issued in southern New Jersey, eastern Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, the District of Columbia and part of Virginia, and was caused by a flight of unidentified planes later determined to be friendly.

New York, Sept. 30.—(P)—Headquarters of the First Fighter Command announced today that a yellow alert was issued early this morning in southern New Jersey, eastern Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, the District of Columbia and part of Virginia.

The alert came at a time when State Civilian Defense officials had announced there would be no practice tests and caused considerable excitement among those who received it.

LANDLADY TELLS OF QUARREL AT TRIAL

Waynesburg, Sept. 30.—(P)—The landlady in the apartment building where Mrs. Nancy Holt lived told today of quarreling between the comely 29-year old widow and her husband, Jesse, 33, for whose death she is on trial for murder.

Miss Georgia Sellers, who lived next door to the Holt's apartment, said that once after a quarrel, Mrs. Holt appeared next day with a big black eye and a swollen face.

FIREMAN CRASH VICTIM

Braddock, Sept. 30.—(P)—Captain Andrew Stycyk, 51, one of six firemen hurt when two fire trucks collided Tuesday, died yesterday in General hospital from internal injuries and concussion of the brain.

SOVIETS DRIVE INTO SUBURBS OF KIEV

Russians In Possession of Entire Eastern Portion of District Less Than 100 Yards Across River

GOMEL'S FALL IS NEAR

By EDDIE GILMORE

Moscow, Sept. 30.—(P)—Red army guns shelled the Germans on the high cliffs of Kiev from numerous positions in the suburbs of the eastern bank of the Dnieper river.

The Russians were in possession of the entire eastern suburbs of the city, some of which lies less than 100 yards across the river. They were at the railway and highway bridges on the eastern side of the villages of Posdynyaki, Predmostnaya Sloboda and Trukhanov island, all in Kiev's front yard.

These are just across the river and actually are not villages but subdivisions of the city.

Russian troops are so close to the city that in many places they are able to take the cliffs with machine-guns, and snipers are busy picking off unwary Germans.

Soviet forces which pushed into the suburbs on the eastern bank of the river are exposed to heavy fire from natural fortifications along the towering west bank where ancient cells of monks hewn into the high cliff afford excellent machine-gun and light gun nests for the Germans.

The Berlin radio said that Soviet forces were continuing big-scale crossing thrusts along the central Dnieper without revealing the success of the assaults. It added that Russian reinforcements were being thrown against German defenses near Zaporozhe, on the river south of Dnepropetrovsk, and Soviet forces "are still attacking with powerful forces in the Kuban."

There were no reports here that Soviet forces had already crossed the river either directly above or below Kiev.

The fall of Gomel, river fortification above Kiev, appeared imminent as Soviet troops advanced to within 12 miles of the city from the northeast and other columns advanced from the south and east.

Thirty villages lying athwart Gomel's approaches and transformed into outer fortifications have been captured, Red Star, official army organ, said.

Still another Russian column pushing into White Russia above Gomel, in the Mogilev sector, has occupied a number of villages, front line dispatches said.

Army Casualties About 85,000 Sec. Stimson Declares

Washington, Sept. 30.—(P)—The American army casualties in the war to date total about 85,000, Secretary of War Stimson disclosed today.

The total, Stimson told a press conference, included the period from December 7, 1941, through casualties at Salerno, and up to and including September 15.

The casualties at Salerno, where the Allied beachhead was established in Italy and now is expanding, totaled 3,500 killed, wounded and missing.

Stimson gave this breakdown for the war casualties not including Salerno: Killed, 10,682; wounded, 26,666; missing, 23,743; taken prisoner, 20,451.

Wednesday, October 6!

Please set those words, Mr. Printer, in 24-point Cheltenham bold. Make type big and black.

Mark that date down on your calendar. Mrs. Warren County Housewife, where you can't forget it.

It is the date of Warren county's big collection of tin cans, as announced recently by W. T. Corbett, chairman of the Salvage Committee. It is urgently necessary, Mr. Corbett said, that preparation for the collection be 100 per cent complete in every house in the county. A total of 30 tons of cans—nearly a quarter of a million of them—is aimed at. Warren county housewives generally are familiar with the process of preparing cans. However, Mr. Corbett reminds them that should be washed, labels removed, ends removed, and cans flattened by stepping on them. In other words, "Save 'em, wash 'em, squash 'em, and curb 'em."

The pick-up will be conducted in Warren borough by the Valentine and the Warren Disposal Companies, together with volunteer workers. All cans should be on the curb early in the morning. In other communities in the county the pick-up will be held on the same day except for North Warren and Tidoute, which have chosen other days for the collection.

20 tons of cans—"Let's get them!" says Mr. Corbett.

Obituary

MRS. EMMA DUTTON
 Funeral services will be held at 3:45 p. m. Friday at the Bracken-Keating funeral parlors in Corry for Mrs. Emma F. Dutton, lifelong resident of Columbus township, who died Tuesday afternoon at the home of her nephew, Allan Spencer, in Corry. Burial will be in West Lawn cemetery at Columbus.

Mrs. Dutton had been in ill health for the past two years and had been confined to her bed for three months. She was born in Columbus township June 20, 1860, had spent practically all her lifetime there and was actively associated in all civic betterment projects. Prior to her marriage, she taught school both in Columbus and Corry. Among organizations with which she was affiliated was the Dutton Library, named in her honor. She had also served as school director when the borough reverted to a township.

Surviving is a brother, Glenn Spencer, Corry; a sister, Mrs. Fred Haas, Bradford; two nephews, Allan Spencer, Corry, and Norman Scholton, now in Tucson, Ariz.

MRS. SARAH HORSFIELD
 George Horsfield, 1603 Madison avenue, has received word that his mother, Mrs. Sarah Horsfield, died Wednesday in San Bernardino, Calif. She was formerly a resident of Jamestown, N. Y., but had lived with her daughter in California for the past six years. Funeral arrangements have not been completed and will be announced later.

MARY ANN STANFORD
 Private funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Saturday at the home of Mrs. Minnie Van Guilder, 705 Fourth avenue, this city, for her mother, Mrs. Mary Ann Salisbury Stanford, who passed away at Youngsville Wednesday morning.

CARD OF THANKS
 We desire to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to all the neighbors, friends and relatives who so graciously gave of their time, for the beautiful floral offerings, and the use of cars, at the time of our recent bereavement.

Warren Boy Survived A Torpedoing

There'll be a lot of Warren county boys coming home with tales of adventure when this conflict is ended, but Garnet Eberhardt, home on a 30 day leave from the Merchant Marine, has a few experiences under his belt already and is going back for more in the near future.

He's had a ship torpedoed out from under him and spent eight days in a lifeboat already, after only 7 months of service.

Asked whether he felt any fear after the torpedo had sunk home in the center of the vessel he stated that your early training, coupled with the extreme speed necessary to abandon ship, you don't have time to think about it until long after it's over with.

He said that everyone had just about begun to call that memorable day "just another day" as it was already dusk, and in that hemisphere night falls quickly, when he heard a terrific thud and felt the ship lurch and almost immediately begin to sink.

For eight days, Eberhardt and fourteen members of the crew sailed on the open seas without sighting land, then finally brought their small craft ashore on an island in the Indian Ocean.

He said the natives were very friendly and helped them locate a United States vessel and after several days of waiting, they were picked up and taken to Colombo, Ceylon, from where they finally were brought back to the states and landed at Key West after a month of sailing.

When asked if he was going out and try it again, he said, "Just as soon as I can get another ship to sail on." Then, how about the service, do you like the Merchant Marine? "Well, he said, I've never heard anybody say they didn't like it, no matter what they've been through."

He leaves in two weeks to await duty in an eastern port.

GARLAND

Robert Bugbee who recently received a severe injury to his spine is walking about town in a stiff brace which will have to be worn for several months. His friends hope he will make a complete recovery.

Miss Reta Colbert of Pittsburgh has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Colbert of this place. Very light frosts have touched man, has recently taken a course in this treatment and is endeavoring to have the method understood by the women of the county. Following the demonstration, Mrs. A. A. Grant, reviewed One World, by Wendell Willkie, in an interesting manner.

The Volley Ball Club, was entertained Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Barlow.

Mrs. Edna Holcom, who has served very efficiently as operator of the Chandler's Valley telephone exchange, several years was given a farewell party Saturday afternoon by Mrs. Ellsworth Wilson and Mrs. Gerald Rhodes, at the former's home. Twenty three women were present. A delightful time was enjoyed and the guest of honor was presented with a set of dishes. Mrs. Holcom, expects to leave soon to make her home in Jamestown.

Allan Peterson who recently entered service in the Navy is now stationed at Newport News, R. I. Mrs. Peterson leaves soon to make her home with her parents in Pittsburgh, during his absence.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Wilson, were, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Scriver, and Miss Rosequist, of Erie, Pa. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Leech and family, Cherry Creek, N. Y. Mr. and Mrs. David Eberhart, and family of Clarendon, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Call, Freeport, Pa. The latter were enroute on a vacation trip to Canada.

Arthur Stauffer, who was seriously injured three weeks ago when his team ran away, was brought home from the Jamestown General Hospital, in the ambulance, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. David Wright and daughter Linda, have moved to Warren. Mr. and Mrs. Eli Martin, have moved into the apartment recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Abbott.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Day of Youngsville, entertained at an old fashioned husking bee, at their home Tuesday evening, honoring the 22nd wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Mickleson.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Baker, and daughter Lucile, of Jamestown, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Larson.

THE BATTLE OF BONDS
(New York Herald-Tribune)

When a hotly-contested battle is in progress and the bulletins on the fighting are scant and ominous, a certain feeling of helpless impatience comes to the worker on the home front, however vital to the war his or her task may be. It springs from the knowledge that American boys are pitting every ounce of the strength of their bodies, every skill of mind and every last fine-drawn power of will against the enemy; that as the tense moments pass some strong point may be giving way, some desperate attack faltering under a storm of fire; some vital decision being shaped—thousands of miles away. And here in America there is nothing that can be done to affect the immediate issue; the work goes on to prepare for the next battle, for the battle after that.

There is a battle going on now, however, in which all can share, a decisive battle. The communiques are issued frequently; one can see the sectors where triumphant progress is being made and where the fighting lags. No "fog of war" conceals the field; the objectives are clearly defined and the progress toward them carefully marked. The citizen who watches the development of the Third War Loan drive need not transport himself in thought across the seas; need not suffer as flesh is torn by steel and nerves fray out under the crash and scream of projectiles—although it might help to taste these trials in imagination. He has simply to recognize, as the soldier recognizes, that when the going is hard more is expected; when some fall the rest have double burdens; that victory does not come when each one does as much as the next man, but when all do as much as they can. When this realization comes, the citizen may forego a little present pleasure to buy another bond, to make another good investment. It is a profitable sort of patriotism and deserves no medals—but unless it is exhibited by the American people in the battle of the bonds, men will die and the battles of fire and steel may be lost. For when the next Salerno flares into the headlines he who shirked at home will be in the fight indeed—but on the wrong side.

WHY TAXES ARE HIGH

The Washingtonian was telling, over lunch, why he was on leave looking for a job in private industry, though he now is receiving from a government agency the highest salary he ever attained, comments S. Burton Heath in an editorial written for NEA and the Times-Mirror. Then he continues:

"I like the work," he said, "and I think it is of major importance. It is being carried out efficiently, intelligently and without politics. I like my associates and my superior. If I find another job, probably it will involve a reduction in my income."

"But here's the difficulty: I haven't anything to do. Circumstances have changed since I went to Washington a year ago, and our agency now can carry out its duties with less manpower. Much of the time I sit around with nothing to do—and I'm not old enough, yet, to enjoy that."

"Last summer I tried to resign. I told my superior why—that I didn't have enough work to keep me busy. He was sympathetic. But he didn't want me to leave. So he offered me an assistant."

We laughed. It seemed very funny. Offering an assistant in order to retain the services of a man whose only complaint was lack of work.

"It isn't as funny as you think," retorted the Washingtonian. There was logic in the offer. What he really was doing was offering me a raise if I would stay.

"Under civil service regulations, the only way I can get a raise is by bossing my subordinates. That is why I was offered an assistant."

"But why," we asked, "is your superior so anxious to keep you, if there isn't enough work? Is it on the basis of personal friendship?"

"No," said the Washingtonian. "We are friendly enough, but not that pally. I suppose he wants me to stay for the same reason that he offered me an assistant—because his status, too, depends upon the number of subordinates he has. If I left, he would have to find somebody in my place or he would drop a step in the hierarchy, which might have financial implications for him."

There are many reasons why taxes are high. Among them is the cost of the war. But multiply this incident many thousands of times, and there is another reason.

Another week should find the foliage in the section at its prettiest.

Fire Burn, and Cauldron Bubble

Washington In Wartime

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON — There are more Congressional committees investigating government manpower with an eye to whacking the daylights out of it than I have ever seen concerned with a single subject before.
Rep. Lyndon Johnson's subcommittee of the House Naval Affairs Committee has even taken up offices in the Navy Department building, better to study the situation at first hand.
The House Military Affairs Committee has a subcommittee at work on the same thing in the War Department.
The Byrd committee, concerned with governmental expenditures, is devoting much of its time to government employment.
The Ranspock committee on civil service in the House is up to its ears in the problem.
That's just a starter, and these activities are certainly not going to be curtailed by what the congressmen heard from the home folks. Apparently the expansion of civilian government employment to now more than 3,000,000 has a lot of voters hopping mad.
Investigations are a healthy thing in most cases. They keep the departments and agencies on their toes. Already, it has led to a lot of housecleaning here, and there will be more. Johnson's committee, even before it has brought in its report, has caused the Navy to do a lot of shifting of manpower.

A LITTLE prodding around turns up a lot of stories about how agency heads are humping to increase the efficiency of their bureaus before they come in with 1944-45 budget requests.
The Office of Censorship is discovering returns from its job utilization survey. Work standards are established and field offices or divisions of the national office fail to meet those requirements are investigated with a view to shearing off personnel.
The economy bloc in Congress is in no mood to be fiddled with and the wise department heads know it. Many of them are doing their best to see that Uncle Sam's staff of 3,000,000 employees really does its job. On the other hand, the government is still expanding.

THE FBI probably has the tightest and most efficient personnel of any government agency. In spite of considerable expansion since defense demands first put pressure on it, there has never been any accusation that FBI is overstaffed.
One reason: Director J. Edgar Hoover has instituted a rule that each employee at the end of the day must turn in a report on work done. In the field offices, the agent in charge audits these reports and acts accordingly if his office is under- or over-staffed.
And a good job he had better do it, too, for at no set time, the home office calls for these reports and puts them under the manpower microscope.

Hollywood Gossip

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—John Hodiak (remember the name) is a rugged young fellow who looks convincing in the role of hardy seaman. He can sit in a crowded lifeboat, his brown hair wild and his cheeks and chin covered with smoky stubble, and look like a fellow out of life—not from a movie script.
His is the same quality that chap named Gable brought to pictures, and already he's being compared to Gable, just because anybody who is rugged, natural, and modest without being self-effacing gets himself card-indexed under "Gable type."

The omen-seekers will note also that Hodiak follows the Gable pattern in playing his first important role behind a several days' growth of whiskers. Gable did it in "The Painted Desert." The Alfred Hitchcock movie which lured Tallulah Bankhead from the stage, if there's a leading man in Hitchcock's collection of lifeboat passengers, Hodiak is it. It is he, at least, who intrigues the romantic attention of the brittle, polished, and sophisticated lady played by Tallulah.

THERE'S a story behind his selection for the role, but Hodiak has his own explanation: "I figure if something is coming my way, it's coming—and this proves it."
At the age of 11, Hodiak, son of a Detroit automotive worker, decided to be an actor. At 14, he was studying for the priesthood. At 19, he had practically settled on professional baseball as a career, with good prospects of joining the St. Louis Cardinals.
He was an automotive worker at the time—a job he was offered because, in his school days, he happened to cadgy for an automotive executive. He was making $45 a week in this job, and he quit it for a $35 one in radio because he suddenly made up his mind that acting was what he wanted.

HE was acting in radio dramas when an M-G-M scout came along, arranged a test, and thus put him on the contract list. He played inconspicuously in four or five movies ("A Stranger in Town," "I Dood It," etcetera) before Hitchcock began casting "Lifeboat." Hitchcock needed a Negro actor, and he wanted to see a test of Canada Lee. He saw it, and he signed Canada. But he also got excited about the husky six-footer who shared the Lee test. That was Hodiak, whose original screen test it was, made in his radio drama days.
John is of Ukrainian-Polish descent, born in Pittsburgh, and intends to keep his full name. "When my mother goes to a movie," he says, "I want her to be able to say that I'm her boy who's been in the movies." GRID SCHEDULE FOR SATURDAY BROADCASTS
By C. E. BUTTERFIELD
New York, Sept. 30. (AP)—After the usual reshuffling of schedules, the networks have decided upon the games they will do Saturday afternoon. Two chains, CBS and MBS, have picked Colgate vs. Army at West Point for 2:30.
NBC will have a Big Ten game, Northwestern vs. Michigan at 2:45, while the BLU will carry Notre Dame vs. Georgia Tech at 3:15.

Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth, while the evil days come not, nor the years draw nigh when thou shalt say, I have no pleasure in them.—Ecclesiastes 12:1.

Man Charged With Killing Two Heifers

Charged with larceny in connection with the killing and butchering of two Hereford heifers, owned by W. W. Waterhouse, of Corry, Arthur L. Ransom, Corry R. D. 2, was held for action of the next quarter sessions court of Warren county following a hearing before Justice of the Peace C. D. Eldred at West Spring Creek, Wednesday morning. Regarding the action the Corry Journal says:

Ransom was placed under arrest by Pvt. Robert Parson of the Corry sub-station of state police. He entered a plea of guilty to the charge of larceny when arraigned before the justice and in default of bond was remanded to the Warren county jail, where he was taken by the officer.

The two heifers are reported to have strayed to Ransom's farm near the foot of Piccadilla Hill in Warren county. The animals were said to have been shot and butchered by the farmer, who failed to take steps to establish identity of the owner. In this connection, it is understood that several other young heifers owned by Mr. Waterhouse, took on a wild, roaming nature and finally had to be shot by the owner. The two, allegedly killed by Ransom, were never found by the Wayne township farm owner, disclosure of the slaughtering just being made over the week-end.

Aviator Dives Plane at Speed Of 840 M.P.H.

A United States Fighter Base, Somewhere in England, Sept. 29—(P)—Second Lieut. Robert H. Knapp, Norwich, N. Y., was believed today to have achieved a speed of approximately 840 miles per hour in a dive during an air-fight over Emden, Germany, last Monday.

If true, then Knapp, pilot of a 0-47 Thunderbolt fighter which helped escort Flying Fortresses in a raid on the German city, probably has flown faster than any human being ever has traveled before.

The greatest speed previously officially recorded by the pilot of a fighter plane was that of Col. Cass Hough, also of the Eighth Air Force, when he dove a P-47 Thunderbolt "more than 780 miles an hour," which is the speed of sound, in a test flight in England last spring.

While flying at 20,000 feet Col. Knapp went down to attack a Focke-Wulf 190.

When his plane achieved a speed so great that the "paint curled on his elevators," and his controls locked, Knapp thought he was doomed, he reported to fellow officers of his command. But at 5,000 feet the plane came out of its vertical dive and Knapp was able to regain control.

Inspection of Knapp's plane when he returned to his base revealed the peeling of the paint on his elevators but otherwise there was no evidence of strain or structural damage.

Pennsylvania Fliers Given Extra Awards

Allied Headquarters in the Southwest Pacific, Sept. 18—(Delayed)—(P)—Lt. Gen. George C. Kenney, commander of Allied air forces in the southwest Pacific, has presented the Oak Leaf Cluster in place of additional Distinguished Flying Crosses or air medals to several Pennsylvanians, his headquarters announced today.

Corp. William H. Fetzer, Bellefonte, was decorated with his second cluster in place of a Distinguished Flying Cross for "extraordinary achievement while participating in operational flight missions x x x dropping supplies and transporting troops to advanced positions."

Flight Officer Arthur L. Talmage of Apollo, Staff Sgt. Peter F. Abramovich of R. I. Barnesboro, and Staff Sgt. Joseph G. Leonard of Turtle Creek, were decorated with Oak Leaf Clusters in place of additional air medals.

Talmage was cited for meritorious achievement during an aerial flight over the sea north of Cape Ward, Hunt, New Guinea, in April.

Abramovich's citation stated that he exhibited "ability, courage and determination" as a member of a heavy bomber crew which destroyed 12 zeros during a battle near Wewak, New Guinea.

MEN AND WOMEN IN SERVICE

Mrs. Paul J. Rogers has received word that her husband is now stationed at the U. S. Marine base at Cherry Point, N. C. Corp. Rogers recently graduated from the Aviation Metallurgy school at Jacksonville, Fla.

Pvt. Fred Lawton, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Lawton, Warren RD 3, is getting along satisfactorily in the hospital at Fort Bragg, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mahan, of Chancellors Valley, have received word that their nephew, Eugene L. Spencer, has been promoted to corporal at Camp Robinson, Ark.

Naval Aviation Cadet Edward Alfred Kohler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allie Kohler, Jackson street, North Warren, has successfully completed the intensive 11-week course at Chapel Hill, N. C., and has been promoted to primary flight training at the naval air station at Glenview, Ill. Cadet Kohler attended Warren High School, Class of 1939, and was active in both football and band work.

Arthur W. Christenson, Jr., of Ludlow, has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the army of the United States, according to a special dispatch from Fort Benning, Ga., where he completed the officer candidate course of the infantry school. Lt. Christenson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Christenson. He was inducted into the army on November 12, 1941 and served with the 138th infantry before going to OCS, holding the rank of corporal before being commissioned. He is a graduate of Ludlow High School and well known throughout the section.

Among new recruits at the Great Lakes, Ill., training station are three Warren county men: Robert James Morgan, son of Mrs. Evelyn Morgan, 217 Parker street; Walter James Shanshala, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Shanshala, 20 Locust street, and Robert James Stuart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Cumming Stuart, of Sugar Grove.

Men in U. S. training camps eat about 18 pounds of fresh and frozen fish a year.

YOUNGSMITH NEWS

Youngsville, Sept. 29.—The Warren county convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union met in an all day session Tuesday, Sept. 28th, in the Youngsville United Brethren church, with Mrs. Mabel Dallas, county president, presiding. The morning session opened with registration and reception of members. Mrs. Bessie Walters of Warren led in the devotion. Committees for the day were appointed. Prize essays written by school children in the county were read. An instructive departmental forum was conducted followed by the noon prayer. Rev. Dwight Jack and Mrs. Grant, the latter a former county officer, were introduced and spoke briefly.

Youngsville members and friends joined with the guests from away in a bountiful tureen luncheon. The afternoon session opened with a song service with Mrs. Carson at the piano. Mrs. Edith Husted led in salutes to the American, the Christian and the Temperance flags.

Greeting was given by Mrs. Lyle Thayer, president of the Youngsville union, with the response by Mrs. Bessie Johnson of Warren. Mrs. Edith Kapp of Tidoute conducted the "Quiet Hour". A good address was the county president's message. Mrs. Edith Muir of Warren talked of the work of the Youth Temperance Council. A beautiful duet was rendered by Rev. and Mrs. Charles McIntyre. A memorial for members who had died during the year was conducted by Mrs. Whitney. Mrs. Bessie Walter discussed the need of White Ribbon recruits. Reports were given and the following officers were re-elected.

President—Mrs. Mable Dallas; vice president, Mrs. Edith Kapp; recording secretary, Mrs. Bessie Walters; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Gladys Jamieson; treasurer, Mrs. Edith Stauffer. Consecration of officers was conducted by Mrs. Melba Grady.

The afternoon closed with the singing in a friendship circle of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

At the evening session an interesting and unusual address was given by Rev. S. R. Schieb, pastor of the Salem Evangelical church of Warren. Mrs. Dwight Jack sang a beautiful solo and also led the singing. Rev. C. A. McIntyre, pastor of the church, conducted the devotion. Other lovely music numbers were a vocal trio, Mrs. Bard, Mrs. Stevens and Miss Hendrickson, and an instrumental number by Misses Carmen and Dorothy Hendrickson and Miss Helen Homer.

After singing "God Bless America," the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Samuel Stimer. Between the afternoon and evening sessions, a fine dinner was

State College Classes Start On October 11

The Engineering Science and Management War Training Program offered by The Pennsylvania State College, under the sponsorship of the United States Office of Education, has been organized for Warren and classes will begin October 11.

The courses are open to men and women who have had a high school education of its equivalent in industrial or practical experience. The program is designed to further the war effort by training needed men and women for jobs in war production. After an industrial and community survey, courses were selected which are considered most beneficial to the people and industries in Warren.

These courses are: Cost Accounting for War Production; Chemistry of Engineering Materials; Industrial Drafting Practices; Operations Inspections; Safety Engineering; Production Control; Qualifying Mathematics for Engineers and Applied Mechanics.

There is no charge except for the cost of textbook materials and special attention is being given for training women for whom there will be a large demand in Warren very soon.

Registration for the new program will be held at the high school Wednesday and Thursday, October 6 and 7 from 7 to 9:30 p. m.

served by a group of ladies of the United Brethren church.

Mr. and Mrs. Jap Thompson of Americanus are guests this week of Mrs. Thompson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Johnson, on Second street.

Friends will be sorry to learn that C. R. Negus, a former Warren county resident now located at Fort Pierce, Fla., is for the present a patient at the Warren General Hospital under treatment.

The Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service are meeting Friday at this week, Oct. 1st, in the church parlors with Mrs. John Zelliff as program leader and Mrs. M. H. Sellin as hostess chairman. The evening group will meet at the home of Mrs. Nellie Anderson Thursday evening, Oct. 7th.

Mrs. Mable Davis suffered a fractured thigh bone at the hip on last Saturday while working at a church rummage sale in the McClure building where the floor is of cement. She was taken in an ambulance to the Warren hospital. It was a very painful injury and

OFFICIAL VISIT OF DISTRICT OFFICIAL
Tuesday evening, September 28, marked the occasion of the visit of District Grand Royal Matron Eva Boardman's official visit to her own court, Conewango No. 20, of Warren.

The meeting was preceded by an excellent tureen dinner and program. A very enjoyable part of the program was the singing of vocal solos by Mrs. Donald Cook, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Mabel Smith.

A class of candidates was initiated into the order and a dedication service was held for the new flag. Mrs. Grace Webb, in her usual original and humorous manner, made the gift presentation. Members enjoyed a short talk by WAVE officers here for recruiting purposes, in regard to their work, qualifications and the need for more enlistments.

FAREWELL PARTY
Mrs. Allan Carlson, 108 North Carver street, was pleasantly surprised yesterday afternoon when a group of friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mrs. Paul Mathis, Madison avenue, to honor her with a farewell party. She is leaving soon to make her home in Erie.

The afternoon was pleasantly spent, and the honored guest received a beautiful gift from those present. Later in the afternoon a two course luncheon was served.

FOR RECENT BRIDE
Mrs. Bet Guiffre was hostess Tuesday for a dinner party at the Hotel Carver honoring Dean Rossman Monroe, who was recently married. Gifts of Fostoria were presented the bride from Miss Rita Retzer, Miss Mac Speaker, Mrs. Ellen Carr, Mrs. Ella Hoagvall, Mrs. Ann Heffernan, Mrs. Beatrice Hansen and the hostess.

PHC MEETING GAMES
Following a seven o'clock business meeting this evening, PHC members will again sponsor a series of games for the public, play to start at eight o'clock in the third floor rooms of the Eagles building.

From there and from Sania they can threaten the seaward flank of the enemy.

Gen. Montgomery's thrust northward along the Adriatic also poised a flanking threat to the Germans' next possible defense position along the Volturno river, some 20 miles north of Naples.

In spite of drought conditions Pennsylvania honey bees will produce over two million pounds more honey this year than last, according to a recent report by the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service in the State Department of Agriculture.

Thirteen subjects are to be offered in this year's course of study of the Emporium evening school, which is to open on October 4 in the high school building, Supervising Principal Joseph L. Sitts announced today.

An echo is a proof of the fact that sound waves require time to travel.

Speaks Here

Peter Varonoff, author, lecturer and evangelist, who will speak here at 8 p. m. Friday in Calvary Baptist church, telling some of the experiences of his 12 years in Soviet Russia with his missionary parents. His father was president of the Union of Christians of the Evangelical Faith and in that time Mr. Varonoff visited 16 or more countries in a study of existing conditions. He is the author of a number of books on international and other topics, his best known, perhaps, being "Twelve Years Under Dictatorship."

MEN AND WOMEN IN SERVICE

Sgt. Ernest Stewart arrived Tuesday from Greenville, S. C., to spend a few days furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stewart.

Pfc. Donald Anderson, whose home is in James City and who is located in Panama Canal Zone, was in Warren Wednesday to visit friends.

Mrs. John C. Smith has received word that her husband is now in Louisiana on maneuvers after having been home on a short furlough.

John Hallgren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hallgren, Clarendon, has joined the Marines and is stationed at Farris Island, S. C.

It will interest many to know that Pvt. Donald R. Dickson, son of Dr. and Mrs. T. S. Dickson, of York, is serving overseas with a field hospital unit.

Friends will be glad to know that Staff Sgt. Thomas E. Finney, has been assigned to an ordnance unit at Eglin Field, Fla.

Majority Of States Will Draft Dads

as to be a ground for deferment, and in preparation for this, pre- Pearl Harbor dads between 18 and 35 who are not making a substantial contribution to the war effort in their work are being put in 1-A class in the order of their draft numbers.

If the local board considers their work important enough in the war effort, and if they can not be replaced in their jobs, they go in Class 2 and continue to be deferred.

Each board is supposed to induct fathers only after it has exhausted the supply of childless men, post-Pearl Harbor fathers, those whose jobs are on the published "non-deferrable" list, and fathers who have quit farming in violation of the law.

Chicago reported few if any fathers would be called before Oct. 7. The New York City situation was indefinite. Washington and the District of Columbia area will start general inductions November 1.

Those states which have enough manpower until November 1 at least include Arizona, Florida, Indiana, Maine, Minnesota, Mississippi, New Mexico, Oregon, Utah and Vermont.

Iowa expects general drafting of fathers in November, with maybe a few in October. In California it was said that if fathers are drafted it will not be before Oct. 28. New Jersey officials said it was doubtful whether fathers will be called before November.

In the Wake of MURDER

By ADELINE McELFRESH

Chapter 11
FINALLY Brad was finished. A tired grin struggled through the smoke-grime on his face as he approached Lucinda Eddy's desk, where Jane was talking to the society editor.

"Well, chicken," he said, "here I am."

Jane smiled at the aptness of Lucinda's expression. His face was streaked with sweat and dirt, he had lost his hat, flying sparks had burned a hole in his coat sleeve.

"Shall we eat?" Jane asked. "I'm famished. You must be, too, Brad."

"I am. But we can't. At least, not me. I'm due at the police station." He held her coat for her. "Want to come along?"

After goodbyes to Lucinda Eddy and a few others, Jane accompanied Brad outside. He settled her in the car before he spoke.

"Well, Janey," he said then, "this is it. Sabotage. It's begun."

"Yes," Jane knew he was right. This was what that letter had meant. And they hadn't been able to prevent it.

"But what can I do?" The question seemed wrong from the depths of his soul. He stepped on the starter. "Those poor devils are dead, a lot of them. Others are crippled for life."

Jane swallowed hard. The tight knot in her throat wouldn't let her speak.

"It was hell out there," Brad was talking again, softly, as though to himself. "You didn't see the worst part of it. Not the horribly burned bodies, or the ones, still alive, with arms and legs gone, blown away in the explosion."

of human emotion. People that don't have that feeling for others have very little to live for."

"You're good for me, Janey," Brad said then. "You understand."

BRAD stopped the car in front of the police station. "Let's see Thompson's round-up brought results."

They went in to meet the police chief, his face a grim mask of determination.

"They won't talk," was his greeting. "Not a mother's son of them. We've grilled them for hours."

Brad rolled that over in his mind. "Small fry," he said, "but if one of them would crack, we would have a lead."

"Which we ain't got now," Thompson groused. "The boys'll keep working on 'em. Something is bound to happen soon."

Jane thought, they must be making headway or they wouldn't be quizzing suspects. Aloud: "Don't you know anything at all?"

Chief Thompson laughed. "Very little, Miss Carter. By the way, Brad, I talked to headquarters a while ago. They're sending a new man to help you. I told 'em you couldn't be all over the county at once, so while your chief said he had supreme confidence in your varied abilities..." He shrugged.

"Quit soft-soaping me, Jim," Brad laughed. "I'll be glad to see reinforcements arrive. This case is developing quite rapidly."

Brad and the chief left her then and went back to the cell block to look in on the prisoners. She wanted to go too, but their desire to go alone was so obvious with Jack Preston, a rookie cop with whom she had gone to school.

"I tell you, Jane," that young man said after a while, "they have the damndest mess of foreigners back there!"

"Oh?" Jane left the way open for him to continue.

"Uh-huh. Lot of them from Emerson. Enough Nazi sympathizers here now to start a revolution. Why..."

BUT Brad and Thompson returned then and young Preston shut up, much to Jane's disappointment.

Later, when they were sitting in Tony's Place, Jane told Brad about it. "You came back too soon," she scolded. "Jack was about to tell me something, I think."

"Oh, ho," Brad chuckled. "After this, try your charms on me. Seriously though, Jane, I don't want you to know any more about this. It's too dangerous."

"Pooh," Jane scoffed. "What about you?"

"That's different. It's my job." "Nice of you, Brad, but it's my country too, you know."

"You're sweet," Brad thought. Too sweet. I mustn't fall in love with you. Not now. Too many things can happen to a girl when these spy rings know you love her."

The waitress came finally for their orders. Jane scanned the menu and decided on a baked ham sandwich, French fried potatoes, fruit salad and coffee.

"Sounds good," Brad agreed. "Make it two."

It was good, exceptionally so, it seemed to them, but perhaps that was because they had not eaten for so long. Jane's sandwich and malted milk at noon seemed far away.

An extra late edition with a complete story and pictures, was on the street as they left Tony's. Brad bought two, handing one to Jane. Hank's pictures were great. They brought the whole dreadful scene back much too vividly. Jane folded the paper in her lap. She didn't want to see all that horror again.

In front of the apartment house, Brad asked: "May I come in, Jane? I'd like to look over the paper."

"Of course," she admitted to herself that she hated to see him go. Something about Brad Forrester made her like him. A lot.

Outside her apartment door Brad stiffened. He caught her hand before it reached the doorknob.

"Jane," he whispered, "someone's in there. I smell cigar smoke."

Petty Complaints Keep Coppers Busy

Although no serious infractions were recorded during the night members of the police department, nevertheless were kept on the jump, especially during the early hours. Investigation was made of a complaint received from a woman regarding her husband and she was advised to consult the district attorney. A noisy dog in the Fifth avenue west section was responsible for one call received and two calls were answered regarding boys who were annoying residents in Fifth avenue and at the new fire station in the west side. Two doors were found unlocked and a bicycle was recovered. The usual routine service in escorting money to banks, etc., made the evening a busy one for the blue coats.

Of interest to farmers, housewives and others, the book describes processes which begin with the slaughter of the animal and end with the meat ready for the roaster. The book explains the relationship between grades of animals and grades of meat; slaughtering and cutting; processing sausage and lard; curing meats; and tanning hides and skins.

Historic Niagara Is In Final Berth

Erie, Sept. 30.—(AP)—The historic "Niagara"—from which Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry messaged "we have met the enemy and they are ours"—moves to its final berth today, 130 years after it first achieved fame in the war of 1812.

Where formerly Commodore Perry strode the bridge, the ship is being moved to the shore of Lake Erie, now schoolchildren and tourists will view the rebuilt 20-gun ship.

The Pennsylvania Historical Commission has undertaken future care of the relic, Chairman R. P. Wright, of Erie, announced today. An estimated $35,000 has been spent in reconditioning the vessel. Its new berth will be alongside the State Street wharf where it will be towed today. There it will be raised to a land berth.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start tagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting to night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning when you urinate show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

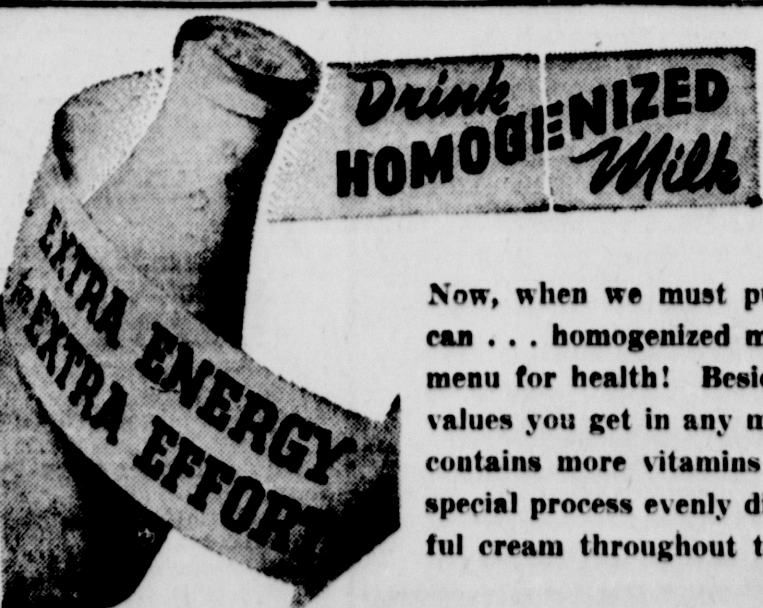

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Oil City Eleven Confident of Easy Win Here Saturday

Bradford Is Preparing For Youngsville

Bradford Era: Bradford High School's Owls face their third straight gridiron test Friday night when they stack up against the Youngsville High eleven. The game scheduled for the local high school field will start promptly at 8 o'clock.

Bradford's Owls dropped their first two games of the 1943 campaign. In the season's opener they lost to DuBois High here by the score of 14 to 7 while last week the locals journeyed to Oil City and saw the Oilers eke out an 8 to 7 decision.

Youngsville has a first class aggregation this campaign. They have played three games this season showing two victories as against one setback. In their 1943 opener they dropped a heartbreaker to Warren High by the score of 13 to 12. The following week they won from Corry and Sheffield High schools.

Coach Bob Pflug is experimenting this week with a revised lineup. Just which boys will be used remains a question. The answer resting on the result of the work-outs the rest of the week.

Lloyd who has been performing in the backfield yesterday was shifted to a tackle berth by Coach Pflug. Other changes in yesterday's work-outs were sending Kornacki to quarterback with Von-Carlowitz, who had been playing quarter the two previous games, moving into a backfield berth. In case Leonard does not recover sufficiently from injuries sustained in the Oil City game last week Coach Pflug will start Scott.

Strenuous work-outs are planned the rest of the week for the Owls with hopes of breaking their two game losing streak.

Four Teams Entered In Fast Circuit

A Ladies' Major League with four teams of Warren's high-average bowlers to begin Monday evening at 7 o'clock at the Penn Center has been formed with the following sponsors: Harriet-Bryt Shoppe, Savoy Cafe, Chimento's Restaurant and Betty Lee Shop. The line-ups follow:

Savoy Cafe: Rose Hand, Clara Gardner, Marion Coyle, Rose Leuthold, Gladys Gray.

Harriet-Bryt Shoppe: Red Walsh, Vic Nelson, Jeanene Harvey, Edith Berdine, Mary Clepper.

Chimento's Rest.: Emma Linck, Bernice Thomas, Nina Benner, Elia Printz, Marg Kiernan.

Betty Lee: Aose Juliano, Edith Raleigh, Adelaide Juliano, Ruth Ritchie Beatty, Ruth Cluckshank.

Bowling Will Start Monday At Conewango

The Conewango Club bowling season will open next Monday night with the Peerless Pettibones meeting the charges of Jack MacDonald. Tuesday night Lynn Branch's team will meet the Trevanens; on Wednesday the McClure Mounties take on Ray Reed's Boilemakers while on Friday night the defending champions the Culbertsons, with another Cul-

Squads Named for Overseas Tour of Major League Teams

Chicago, Sept. 30.—(P)—Players from six of the eight American League Clubs were named to the junior circuit's overseas baseball tour squad announced today by President William Harridge. Joe Cronin, pilot of the Boston Red Sox, will manage the team which will play a National League star squad in the South Pacific after the World Series.

Players selected were:

Catchers, Bill Dickey and Rollie Hemsley, New York, and Jake Early, Washington.

Pitchers, Spurgeon Chandler, New York; Paul (Dizzy) Trout, Detroit; Orval Grove, Chicago; Emil (Dutch) Leonard, Washington; Allie Reynolds, Cleveland, and Cecil (Tex) Hughes, Boston.

Infielders, Rudy York, Detroit; Bobby Doerr, Boston; Luke Appling, Chicago, and Bill Johnson, New York.

Outfielders, Charley Keller, New York; Pete Fox, Boston, and George Case and Stan Spence, both Washington.

In addition to Cronin and the 18 players, the squad will include Umpire William Summers, Dr. Ralph McCarthy of Boston as trainer, and Earl J. Hilligan, director of the American League Service Bureau, as club secretary and league representative.

No players from the Philadelphia or St. Louis clubs were chosen.

Bowling Scores

The Struthers Wells Bowling League got under way at the Penn Bowling Center last evening and Machine Shop and Gun Shop each took clean sweeps over Boring Mills and Plate Floor respectively. Coddington's 202-588 and Hoag-vall's 210-568 led the Gun Shop. Forsberg's 545 led the Machine Shop to four points over the Boring Mills as Scallies' 224-554 topped the 500 ring for the losers. Foreman A. with Wooster's 224-579 took three points from Foreman B. Schmidt's 528 was high for the losers.

Heater's, with Thomas' 208-532 and Schuler's 202-513 took three points from X-ray as Stephen's 216-558 total paced the losers.

Wooster's 224 was high single. Coddington's 588 high three games. (Turn to Page Ten)

New Process Girls Form A New League

New Process girls formed an eight-team league at Penn Bowling Center to begin Wednesday at nine o'clock. The officers elected were: President, Sylvia Pileggi, secretary Margaret Lucia, treasurer Helen Ross. The roster of teams follows:

Charters Dept.: M. E. Juliano, Capt.; G. Sheel, J. Senger, G. Miller, M. A. Geitner.

Wins Over Titusville And Bradford Give Oilers Heavy Odds

Dragons Taking Back Seat to Oilers After Rival Blue and White Gridiron Team Defeated Bradford Owls and Titusville Rockets

Arrigo Playing Last Game With Dragons On Saturday

Gusty Arrigo, quarterback on the first team of the Warren High school football team, will make his last appearance with the squad Saturday when the Dragons play Oil City at Russell Field, since he is leaving Monday to join the Navy.

Absence of Arrigo from the line-up will be a great loss to the Dragons, but a big gain for Uncle Sam. He has had four years of football, being one of the four lettermen who returned from last year.

Although it's been five long years since Oil City has turned the scoring tables on the Warren Dragons, the Oilers think they have the stuff to do it with this season and are bringing their rival, Blue and White aggregate to Russell Field Saturday with all confidence that it won't be too much trouble.

When they wired out the report they had beaten the Titusville Rockets by 26 to 0, the Dragons decided that the Drake town clan had a weak team this year, but then the Brown and Gold of Titusville set the locals back 12 to 7 last week. The report then came out of the down-river town that they had turned the trick on Bradford, 8 to 7, by scoring in the final minutes of the tilt after they had racked up a safety in the earlier parts.

Now, with only one defeat handed them this season they are headed for the Dragons with heavy odds hanging on them that they can do the same to them.

The Oilers have most of their first strings back from last year and are heading for one of the top slots of the football district, providing they can continue their winning streak.

On the other hand, after the heart-breaker last week at Titusville, the Blue and White Dragons of local fame, with only two out of four to their credit this year, are getting their bearings at last and it should make up one of the fastest games to be seen this year when they clash on Russell Field Saturday afternoon.

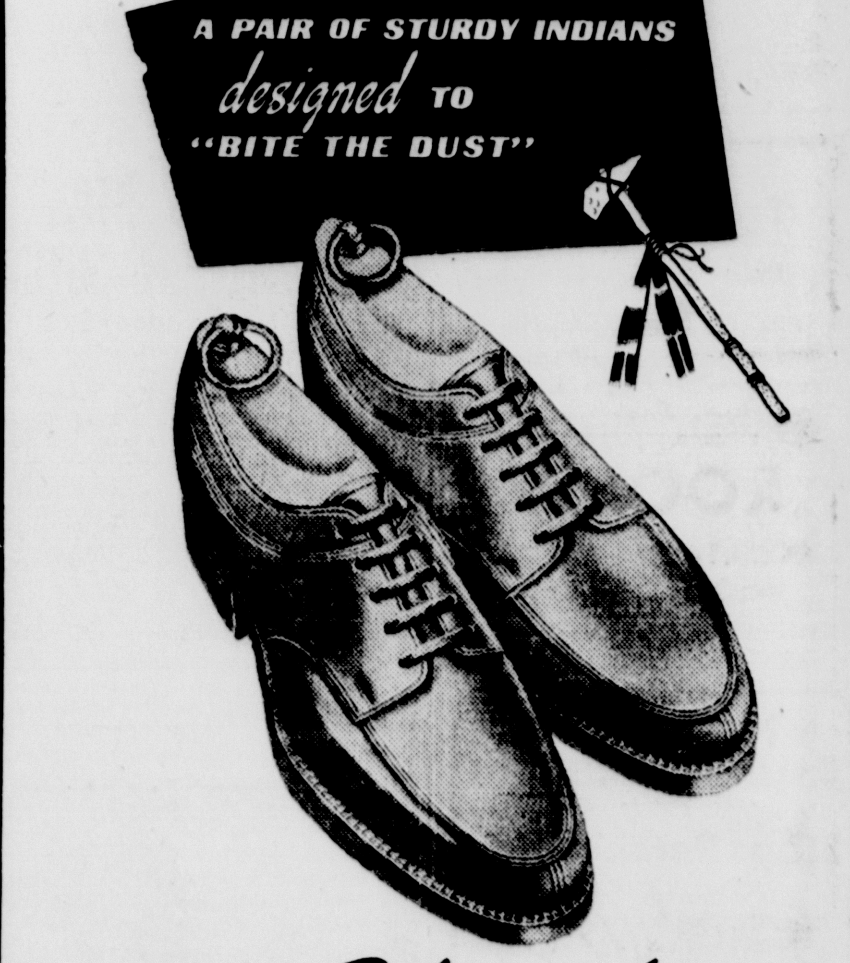

The locals suffered the loss of their ace signal caller in the early part of the first quarter at Titusville, and although they might have had the same thing happen to them regardless, it looks like that factor meant a lot and Gusty Arrigo will be in top form again this week.

The fastest corner on the team seems to be Jim Snyder at full-back, a consistent ground-gainer, who gives the outfit a lot of that needed confidence, while the entire team is shaping out with plenty to give the invaders when they step up here.

The Dragons, who only attempt-

Pirates Send Two Players To Columbus

Pittsburgh, Sept. 30.—(P)—The Pittsburgh Pirates today released Pitcher Johnny Podgajny and Outfielder Johnny Wyrostek out-right to the Columbus Red Birds of the American Association as part payment for the purchase of Pitcher Elwin (Preacher) Roe.

The Buccaneers had agreed to give Columbus two players in addition to the cash consideration originally paid for the southpaw hurler.

Podgajny was obtained from the Phillies last June 15 in a trade for Pitcher Lloyd (Dutch) Dietz. Since coming to the majors late in 1940 the be-spectacled right hander has won 20 and lost 37 games. He did not win a game for Pittsburgh and was charged with four defeats. He had won four for the Phils. He is 23 and lives in Chester, Pa.

Wyrostek, 24, a left hand bat, was bought by the Pirates

Sept. 10, 1941, from the St. Louis Cardinals for cash and option last year to Toronto where he hit .270 in 155 games. In 49 games this year with Pittsburgh he hit a disappointing .152 and was out of action for a month due to an injured left shoulder. His home is in East St. Louis, Ill.

COX RESIGNS POST ON FEDERAL COMMISSION

Washington, Sept. 30.—(P)—Rep. Cox (D-Ga.), who has been engaged in a bitter feud with members of the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) in his capacity as head of a special committee to investigate FCC, today resigned the chairmanship of the committee.

Cox announced his resignation to the house after conferring with Speaker Rayburn. His resignation had been demanded in a petition filed on May 13 with Rayburn by Clifford Durr, a member of the FCC, who charged that Cox was unfit to conduct the investigation because of a connection with an Albany, Ga., radio station which had business pending before the commission.

Delightful Reception For YHS Faculty

Youngsville, Sept. 30.—A delightful reception was held by the PTA Tuesday evening honoring the school faculty. The program opened in the school auditorium where Miss Lilly Wood led the singing of the National Anthem.

Mrs. Vivian Gilliland of the faculty led the devotion. Two moving pictures were shown. The first of these, "At the Zoo", was purchased by the association for the school and shown Tuesday evening for the first time. The second, a picture in the arts and hand craft of Mexico, was loaned for this occasion from the Warren County Library of Films.

At the business session, PTA President Mrs. Gilbert Sanford read the list of standing committees with the following ladies designated as chairmen: Program, Mrs. Vivian Gilliland; cafeteria, Mrs. Mildred Jones; membership, Mrs. Warren Jones; hospitality, Mrs. Ernest Johnson; finance, Joseph Passaro.

An exhibit of some 200 cans of vegetables was shown by Miss Gertrude Ostroski, supervisor of the home economics department. These vegetables were canned by the girls of this department to be used in the school cafeteria.

Supt. Paul Gette introduced members of the school faculty, a number of whom are teaching here for the first time. Guests were then invited to the school cafeteria where ice cream and cake was served by members of the cafeteria committee.

DIAMATIC CLUB

The High School Dramatic Club, meeting Tuesday evening, elected officers as follows: President, Norma See; vice president, Marion Danielson; secretary, treasurer, Carmen Hendrickson; publicity, Shirley Johnson; membership, Steve Sevok; Scrap-Book, Betty Jo Zeiler; reading, Jack Wood. After deciding to give a one-act play at the meeting for October 26, the club spent the remainder of time in discussion of three-act plays suitable for production in the high school.

BRIEFS

Lutheran events of this week included a meeting of the official board at the St. John church, with a large number of representatives from the Chancellors Valley and Freehold churches. The choir held a pleasant party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Peters.

The Bible class is meeting this evening with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Walter at eight o'clock.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the United Brethren church will be well represented today at the Erie Branch fall institute in Freeburg where the local ladies will have a part in producing a special play "Officers First". Those going from Youngsville are Mrs. Elga Redmond, Mrs. Alfred Smith, Mrs. Plummer Mourer, Mrs. Archie Jackson, Mrs. Gilbert Sanford, Mrs. Martha Freeborough, Mrs. Floyd Conklin, Mrs. Dallas Haight, Mrs. V. D. Smith and Rev. and Mrs. Charles McIntyre.

Mrs. H. S. Clark is visiting at the home of her son, Gordon Clark, this week. While there she enjoyed two birthday celebrations, that of her son, Gordon, and of her grandson, Jimmy Clark, who both have a birthday on Monday.

Mr. Clark's birthday was remembered by a family dinner and that of his son, Jimmy, by an after-school party with games and refreshments.

COLE HILL

Cole Hill, Sept. 27.—Church services were held in the Garland M. E. church Sunday at 2 p. m. Rev. Dwight Jack gave an interesting talk about "The Light of the World". Willing Workers will meet at Mrs. Wm. Gray's next Thursday and work on the quilt.

Mrs. Ruth Stewart celebrated her birthday Saturday Sept. 26th at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Palmer at Torpedo.

A birthday dinner was served including a birthday cake. Her sister Miss Helen Palmer of Corry, whose birthday is Sept. 27th was also honored at the dinner. Both ladies received some nice gifts and cards.

Mrs. Mary Dey and daughter Frances and grandson LaVoyce of Torpedo and Mrs. Sylvia Sutton and son Rowland of Titusville were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Seth Holmes.

Mrs. Seth Holmes and children Alice and Gordon of the Garland-Torpedo road were visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Baker and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clair Peterson and family in Warren Saturday.

Human Fly To Put On Act At Youngsville

Devotees of high and dangerous life will find thrills in Youngsville on Friday about 7:00 p. m. if it's a rainless evening, when Johnny L. Woods, the Human Fly, will scale the old National Bank building.

Sponsors of the neck-risking event is the American Legion of Youngsville and the benefits will be divided between the Service Club and the American Legion proceeds to go for Christmas packages for service boys.

Fly Woods likes the looks of the bank building, nice and sturdy, and risky enough for his purpose. Woods has mastered the 25-story Pittsburgher Hotel in Pittsburgh and the court house in Indiana, Pa. A few years ago he mastered the Commerce Building in Erie. He has been at this trade for the past 32 years.

When and if Johnny reaches the top of the building the fun will not stop. He will walk blind folded along the cornice, balance on his head on the edge and will balance on a chair hanging over space.

The Legion Auxiliary with Legion caps will pass through the crowd to take up the collection. The Legion hopes to realize a tidy sum for the cause.

Come rain, the event will be postponed until Saturday night at the same hour.
